The term "Peranakan," which means "descendant," is used informally to refer to the descendants of the early Chinese population that landed in the Malay Archipelago in the 17th century. Over time, the Peranakan culture has evolved into a distinct combination of rituals and traditions with Malay, Chinese, and Western influences. The Peranakan Museum is a Singapore museum dedicated to Peranakan culture. At the Peranakan Museum, you may learn about the Peranakans' history and culture, as well as traditional Peranakan weddings and the handmade beadwork and embroidery by Nyonya ladies. Enjoy the view of the lovely Peranakan shophouses in Joo Chiat and seaside bungalows built by the wealthy Peranakans in Katong.
